The Shape of Things: Wright Style

Through October 30 | FREE | Mark Arts (formerly Wichita Center for the Arts)

Experience the influence of geometry on Frank Lloyd Wright's designs through the Froebel Block system. His light screens, wall coverings and fabric designs will be on display to showcase the use of geometry.
Students of all ages can explore different shapes and designs with FLW Constructibles®, Froebel Blocks and origami paper folding. Selected origami cranes will "nest" in the holiday décor during November and December.

Volunteer Highlight: Sonja Vogt

Sonja Vogt's childhood dream is realized each time she steps inside the exquisitely designed walls of Allen House. Interested in Frank Lloyd Wright's style from a young age, the opportunity to serve as a docent is an absolute thrill. She happily shares her knowledge with guests at the house. "I have been so pleased to see that the interest in tours has exploded," Sonja says. "Many Wichitans have no idea what a treasure we have sitting here in our city."

A person who lives by the mantra that the most important thing in life is "to be kind," volunteering at the house is a way for Sonja to give back to her community. "As a volunteer I feel a sense of accomplishment and purpose in what I do," Sonja says. "I also learn new things constantly and from everyone I come in contact with. I have formed lasting relationships with other volunteers, with the staff and even with some of our guests." For Sonja, visitors and our staff, her presence in the house is a true win-win.

Did You Know?

Have you seen the wrong "Wright" light screen in the Allen House? Take a tour and see if you can find the light screen that was installed in reverse.
