Frank Lloyd Wright’s Allen House: Organic Architecture on the Prairie

Monday, October 17, 2016: Noon lunch, 1 pm program

FRANK LLOYD WRIGHT is among the best-loved and most-admired architects of the 20th century. Wichita boasts his last Prairie-Style house from the early stage of his career—the 1915 Allen House in the College Hill neighborhood. Wichita can claim this extraordinary house and a national historian of the architect as our own! An historian, museum director, and architect, Howard Ellington is the recipient of numerous awards for his work to preserve the Allen House, including the Spirit Award from the Frank Lloyd Wright Building Conservancy in 2011. He is a past board member of the Frank Lloyd Wright Building Conservancy. Ellington is presently director of architecture programs at the Frank Lloyd Wright Study Center at Mark Arts (formerly the Wichita Center for the Arts) and executive director of the Allen House Foundation. He will share his insights on Frank Lloyd Wright, his footprint in Wichita, and global legacy in the field of architecture.

Lunch in the S. Jim and Darla Farha Great Hall at noon. Lecture in the Howard E. Wooden Lecture Hall at 1 p.m. RSVP deadline is Tuesday, October 11. Call 316-268-4912 or email your reservation to rsvp@wichitaartmuseum.org.

Your confirmed reservation for the lunch and lecture is a check at $35 per person, made payable to Friends of the Wichita Art Museum. MAIL TO: Art on a Monday, Wichita Art Museum, 1400 West Museum Boulevard, Wichita, KS 67203.
